5-3/4" x 4" scored at 1/2" and 1" on the left, right and bottom sides – Inside Box

2" x 11" for belly band

Scraps for die cutting flower center

Azure Afternoon

Scrap for stamping and die cutting leaves

Bubble Bath

Scrap for die cutting

Balmy Blue

Scrap for die cut

Lemon Lolly

Scrap for die cutting

Fresh Freesia

Scrap for die cutting flower base

Lighter Than Air 6" x 6" DSP

3-5/8" x 1-7/8" (2 pcs) inside layering

Instructions

1. Score the outside box as directed. Burnish with a bone folder.
2. Stamp the single flower, double leave and texture stamp in Petal Pink ink on the outside box.
3. Score the inside box as directed and burnish score lines with a bone folder.
4. Cut out the right and left corners of the inside box (see photo).

- 5.
6. With a circle punch, notch the center of the inside box.
7. Use the Very Best Trio punch to decoratively punch the outside base, DSP and Basic White panels.
8. Adhere one piece of DSP to the inside bottom and top of the outside box (see the photos).
9. Adhere the Basic White sentiment panel to the inside top of the outside box over the DSP.
10. Add Tear & Tape to the inside box at the outer edges (left, right and bottom) and burnish with a bone folder.
11. Remove the tape backing and adhere the inside box to the outside box using the inside score lines as a placement guide. The fold line should be even with the inside score line.
12. Remove the tape backing on each side of the inside box and adhere it to the outside box base with the right and left sides even with the outside box edges.
13. Use the Stampin' Cut & Emboss Machine to dry emboss the belly band. It's too long to do in one pass, so you'll have to emboss twice.
14. Place your treat items in the box and then use the filled box to determine the size of your belly band. This box will hold a variety of candy of different sizes. I'm using a snack size Kit Kat and Hershey's bar and there's still more room for a surprise for my team mates that I'm not yet ready to reveal 😊
15. Crease the belly band at the box edges and burnish with a bone folder.
16. Overlap the belly band ends about 1".
17. Trim and apply liquid glue to adhere the overlapping ends to each other.
18. Die cut the flower elements – base, middle and upper petals, stamped double leaves, flower center and disk florets – from the colors listed above.
19. Assemble the Zinna pieces. I like to curl the top petals slightly with a bone folder.
20. Add Stampin' Dimensionals to the back of the flower and adhere it to the belly band.
21. Tag me at #stampwithnel when you post your finished card 😊
